Increase the performance of your Toyota Hand Brake by installing our Hand Brake Strut upgrade devices.

Supplied as a pair, these extended struts will allow better adjustment of the hand brake, offering a more positive engagement of the hand brake system.

Commonly referred to as a 'Dogbone' this device will improve the operation of the handbrake system and provide a more positive force on the rotor. It also reduces the need to regularly adjust the handbrake system, a common frustration in some Landcruiser models. Easy to install and set up, instructions provided. Some mechanical experience and/or workshop manual recommended. Manufactured from 316 marine grade stainless steel, laser cut for absolute accuracy, hand-finished for long lasting performance.
